Our School

Sadhguru School in Western Uganda is the only one of its kind. Opened in 2017, it is an offering by a small group of local volunteers driven by a strong desire to uplift their community. It provides primary and secondary schooling to 120 rural students, offering a world-class curriculum rooted in Montessori and enquiry-led, project-based learning.

Students are nurtured to become exuberant, fully rounded individuals who are in harmony with themselves and the world. The curriculum is designed to ignite a child's natural curiosity to learn and explore.

Sadhguru School enables children of subsistence farmers (most earning less than $3/day) to step into the world on a level playing field, as changemakers in their communities and beyond.

The Founder

Sadhguru, yogi, mystic and visionary

Sadhguru has an ability to make the ancient yogic sciences relevant to contemporary minds. Free from belief systems, Sadhguru's methods offer inner transformation, opening the door to deeper dimensions of experience, and turning personal responsibility into a path of conscious awareness.

Sadhguru leads the Conscious Planet and Save Soil initiatives. Conscious Planet is a global effort to raise human consciousness and inspire responsible action. It implements several large-scale projects in environment, rural education, and health and community revitalisation. Its path-breaking environmental and social initiatives have garnered global recognition from prestigious organisations including the United Nations, the International Union for Conservation of Nature, and the World Economic Forum. Its pioneering initiatives to restore the soil, water and climate (and which includes 111m trees planted) have been recognised globally as game changers for establishing a blueprint for economic development that is ecologically sustainable. Save Soil is the world's largest people movement, which has united world leaders, visionaries, influencers and over 4 billion citizens to support government policies for soil revitalisation.

Sadhguru is founder of Isha Foundation, an organisation dedicated to the physical, mental and spiritual wellbeing of humanity.

A ball can change the world. It's not about the ball nor kicking nor the cup. It's sheer intensity of involvement. Knowing this in life is yoga.

Teaching should not be a profession
 – it must be a passion. Only then can education move from imposition of facts to exploration of truth.

Your Success in this world essentially depends on how well you can harness the prowess of this body and this mind.

Creating a Joyful Atmosphere

We are fortunate to be deep in the embrace of a wild, vibrant nature, regenerating at an accelerated pace - a permanent natural classroom and source of wonder for the children. Daily yoga practices reinforce this openness and ability to pay keen attention to just about anything.

The children are taught in airy, spacious and open-fronted classrooms, designed to incorporate the natural environment into every aspect of a child's learning.

Classes take place outside regularly, many under the Magic Tree - a venerable old acacia tree brimming with wild orchids, bromeliads and ferns, and a host to many visiting birds. The school maintains an African herbal garden for everyday use and a vegetable garden for the children to learn from and for supplying the kitchen.

A powerful combination of nature and yoga to unlock a child's full potential

Daily practice of yoga is geared towards enhanced concentration and memory, and improved mind/body co-ordination.

Much to the joy of the team, the biggest challenge is in persuading the children to go home at the end of the day: many dive back into the classrooms to continue reading story books, while others bounce around on tree branches, filling the crater valley with giggles.

The Environment

Sadhguru School is set within the beautiful forests and volcanic crater lakes of the 680-acre Ndali Estate, in Western Uganda, overlooked by the Rwenzori Mountains, and within the Kingdom of Tooro.

“The mind is a powerful instrument. Every thought, every emotion that you create changes the very chemistry of your body.

Sadhguru

Sadhguru School students are being offered the foundations for them not to stand in line for jobs, but to be the ones to create jobs in Africa. The school is not-for-profit, and works with volunteers to source external funds for infrastructure, through grants and corporate donors, to enable it to offer a world-class international education at a fraction of the cost of other international schools.

Unusually, Sadhguru School is offering this world class education to children of rural families in Uganda, to break the cycle of generational poverty, with the help of corporate and individual sponsors of students, and through small ventures such as this calendar. We thank you warmly for buying this calendar, all the proceeds from its sale go to supporting Sadhguru School.
